EVOLVING WITH SCIENCE

CASE STUDY

Farr Laboratories

With APPSeCONNECT, Farr Laboratories LLC has achieved the benefits of multi-company / multi-website integration and streamlined their business operations.

About:

In 1999, Farr Laboratories LLC, in collaboration with leading academic urologists began developing a safe, effective and natural way to address the symptoms associated with Non-Bacterial Chronic Prostatitis, Interstitial Cystitis and Vulvodynia. Farr Laboratories LLC is committed to ensuring that their product formulations evolve with the latest clinical research and by recommendation of their Medical Advisory Board.

Project Overview:

Farr Laboratories is a renowned name in the USA for selling natural supplements for urological disorders through their wholesale channel and physical stores. The POS/wholesale Sales Orders are entered and maintained in their back-office ERP system, SAP Business One. To boost up their Sales, they decided to move to a B2C Online Storefront and are using Magento Enterprise for its robustness and the enhanced features. However, with an enlargement of their business, they needed a smart application integration platform that could seamlessly connect their business applications and streamline their business.

The Challenges

- Managing multiple SAP B1 companies and Magento websites as per the requirements.
- Manually completing the Sales Cycle for Accounting Purposes.
- Recording all Sales Conversion in SAP Business One manually.
- Time lag, inefficiency and Customer Dissatisfaction.
- Management of 2200+ tax codes and automatic tax rates update and mapping.
- Web Customer group specific invoice sync.

APPSeCONNECT has enabled us to automatically download our internet orders directly to SAP, cutting down on manual order entry and virtually eliminating data transfer errors between systems. It has been working great for us and saving a lot of time with the automatic download of orders. We have very specific requirements for different customer segments and InSync was able to customize APPSeCONNECT to fit our unique needs-from multi-company/multi website integration, automatic tax updates, and customer-group specific invoice downloads. It has been over 6 months since we have gone live and things have been running smoothly ever since. When I have questions about specific functionalities of APPSeCONNECT and even about SAP, InSync team is still there to quickly respond. InSync is a solid and reliable company and I would highly recommend APPSeCONNECT to any company who is in the market for a reliable and scalable SAP Connector"
